THIS WEEK'S OPPONENT ...

ETSU'S LAST GAME

Two halves of football could not have been any different for the ETSU football team. Holding No. 21-ranked Western Carolina's talented offense to only seven points and trailing just 7-3 at halftime, the Buccaneers suffered a collapse in multiple areas during the second half, as the Catamounts outscored ETSU 42-7 the rest of the way to take a 49-10 Southern Conference victory Saturday afternoon at E.J. Whitmire Stadium.

Ironically, the Bucs – who have struggled to produce an effective rushing attack this season – did manage to rush for 137 yards against the Catamounts. It marked only the second time this year that the Bucs have eclipsed 100 yards rushing in a game. However, while those rushing numbers were improved, junior quarterback Austin Herink (Cleveland) struggled through his toughest game of the year, going just 11-of-30 through the air and having two interceptions returned for touchdowns. In addition, the Bucs allowed a blocked punt to be returned for a score, and a fumbled kickoff also helped the Catamounts add a late touchdown.

For the Bucs, senior tailback Falon Lee was a bright spot with a career high 85 yards rushing. Defensively, Black Bockrath and Dylan Weigel led the way with six tackles apiece. For the Catamounts, freshman running back Donnavan Spencer put on a show with 139 yards rushing and four touchdowns, while sophomore quarterback Tyrie Adams also rushed for 102 yards and accounted for a score as well.

WOFFORD 100 YARD RUSHERS

Wofford began 2016 with a 100-yard game from Will Gay against Tennessee Tech and added 100-yard games from Lorenzo Long against JCSU, ETSU, Samford, Western Carolina, The Citadel, Mercer, Chattanooga and VMI. Brandon Goodson had his first 100-yard game at Furman and Joe Newman had 125 yards against Youngstown State. Wofford had a 100-yard rusher in eleven of the 14 games. Wofford had the first 100+ yard rusher this season when Blake Morgan ran for 120 yards at Presbyterian. Andre Stoddard went for a season-high 157 yards against Western Carolina and Joe Newman ran for 102 yards against Samford, giving Wofford a 100-yard rusher in three of seven games.

OPPONENT 100 YARD RUSHERS

The Wofford rushing defense ended the 2014 season ranked ninth in the nation in rushing defense, allowing only 1,182 total yards on 392 carries for an average of 107.5 yards per game. A big part of that defense was not allowing an opponent to have a 100+ yard rusher. The Terriers went 17 games without allowing a 100+ rusher (last 2 games in 2013, 11 games in 2014, first four games in 2015) before allowing Tee Mitchell to go for 110 yards at Mercer on October 3. The previous 100+ rusher was Jacob Huesman of Chattanooga on November 9, 2013 with 116 yards on 18 carries. Wofford then went 19 games straight without a 100-yard rusher, which ended when Youngstown State's Jody Webb had 213 rushing yards in the NCAA FCS Quarterfinals. He was the first 200-yard rusher allowed since 2009. The Terriers have not allowed a 100-yard rusher in 2017.

UNDER 100 YARDS RUSHING

In nine of the 14 games in 2016, the Terriers held opponents to under 100 rushing yards. Wofford started 2016 by holding Tennessee Tech to 41 rushing yards and then Ole Miss ran for 174 yards. JCSU gained only 18 total yards and ETSU was at -7 for the game, while Samford ran for only 30 yards and Western Carolina had 46. The nation's top rushing team, The Citadel, was held to 190 rushing yards (down from the 381 average) and did not allow a 100-yard rusher. Mercer was held to 48 rushing yards, Furman ran for 65, Chattanooga had 88 and VMI had 62. Youngstown State had 240 in the playoffs, the most by an opponent last season.

A LITTLE MORE PASSING

In 2012, Wofford ran the ball almost 90% of the time. Since then, the Terriers have relied a little less on the run in the option offense. Of the 466 plays in 2017, 376 have been rushes with 90 passes for an 80.3% run offense.

| Year | Plays | Rushes | Passes | % Rushing |
|------|-------|--------|--------|-----------|
| 2012 | 854 | 776 | 88 | 89.7 |
| 2013 | 784 | 647 | 137 | 82.5 |
| 2014 | 688 | 575 | 113 | 83.6 |
| 2015 | 739 | 633 | 106 | 85.6 |
| 2016 | 908 | 785 | 123 | 86.4 |

LESS PASSING, MORE WINS

Since the start of the 2010 season, the Terriers have been most successful when they throw the ball ten times or less in a game. With ten or fewer attempts, Wofford is 38-18 overall. With eleven or more passes per game, Wofford is 21-15 overall.

I'LL TAKE PASSING FOR 200

It was the first 200 yard passing game for the Terriers since 1994 and ranks as the 10th most passing yards in school history. The last time a quarterback completed 11 passes in a game was on October 25, 2008 against Elon as Ben Widmyer was 11-of-17 for 143 yards. In 2007, Widmyer attempted 22 passes at N.C. State and Josh Collier completed 12 passes against Furman for 187 yards.

THE RED ZONE

The Wofford red zone offense was 41-of-51 overall with 32 touchdowns and nine field goals for a 80.4% success rate which was 61st in the nation in 2016. The red zone defense was even more impressive, ranking first in the Southern Conference and seventh in the nation at 70.5%. The Terriers opponents were 31-of-44 in the red zone with 27 touchdowns and four field goals.

FOURTH DOWN? GO FOR IT!

On fourth and short in plus territory, expect the Terriers to go for it instead of punting. Wofford was 20-of-34 on fourth downs, while opponents were 9-of-18 in 2016. The Terriers were 28th in the nation in fourth down percentage with a 58.8% success rate and were second in fourth down attempts. Defensively, opponents were only at 50% on the season to ranked 56th in the nation. So far this season the Terriers are 7-of-12 on fourth down while opponents are 3-of-7.

Shiel Wood (Wofford '06) also added the role of defensive coordinator after the departure of Nate Fuqua.

WINNING SEASONS

With a 9-4 mark in 2012, Wofford had a winning record for the third straight season and the tenth time in the last eleven years in 2012. The Terriers were 5-6 in 2013, one game under the .500 mark,

BRENTON BERSIN

Wide receiver Brenton Bersin ('12) signed as an undrafted free agent with the Carolina Panthers in April of 2012. He spent the 2013 season on the Panthers practice squad. He re-signed with the Panthers again in 2014 and made the 53-man roster and had his first NFL catch against Detroit on September 14. He caught his first touchdown on October 19 at Green Bay and made his first start on October 26 against Seattle. Bersin's 1-yard touchdown reception at Green Bay was the first touchdown catch by a player from Wofford since Jerry Richardson had a touchdown as a member of the Baltimore Colts at Dallas (10/30/60). In 2015, Bersin had a career-high four catches against Tampa Bay (10/4). He remained on the roster for the remainder of the season as the Panthers won the NFC Championship and played in Super Bowl 50. He was on the active roster for the 2016 season but reached an injury settlement following training camp in 2017.

KASEY REDFERN

Punter Kasey Redfern ('14) made the 53-man roster for the Detroit Lions and kicked in the season opener against Arizona. However he suffered a knee injury and was placed on injured reserve. He joined the Lions as a free agent after most recently spending time with the Cleveland Browns. He spent time on the Chargers practice squad in 2015 before joining the Carolina Panthers during the 2016 preseason and was traded to the Browns. He entered the NFL as an undrafted rookie free agent with the Jaguars in 2014.

MR. RICHARDSON

Jerry Richardson came to Wofford in the mid-1950s as an unheralded pass receiver from Fayetteville, N.C. By the time he left to begin his pro career with the Baltimore Colts, the passing combination of Charlie Bradshaw to Jerry Richardson had received nationwide fame. Richardson was an Associated Press Little All-America selection in 1957 and '58. He still holds Wofford's single-game record with 241 receiving yards vs. Newberry in 1956 and is the record holder for touchdown receptions in a season (9 in 1958) and in a career (21). Drafted by the defending world champion Colts, Richardson played two seasons in the NFL, earning Colt Rookie of the Year honors in 1959 and finishing third in the balloting for top NFL rookie. As a senior at Wofford, he scored 72 points on nine touchdowns, 12 extra points and two field goals. Richardson calls his greatest honor being elected team captain in 1958. In 1983, he was chosen to Wofford's All-Time Football team as a receiver. He is currently the owner of the Carolina Panthers. In 2015, Wofford announced the construction of two new facilities on campus donated by Richardson. The Rosalind S. Richardson Center for the Arts opened in the spring of 2017 and is the home to academic programs in theatre arts, visual arts and art history. The Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium is a 123,000-square-foot facility that opens in September and includes a 3,400-seat basketball arena and a 400-seat volleyball competition venue.

CAROLINA PANTHER TRAINING CAMP

The Carolina Panthers have held summer training camp at Wofford since their inaugural season in 1995 and it will be held on campus until at least 2019. The camp provides Wofford tremendous national exposure and visibility. Media members that visit Wofford during the camp include ESPN, Fox Sports, NFL Network, USA Today and Sports Illustrated. Last year's camp drew a record crowd of nearly 135,400 visitors, while in 2017 the camp drew 99,196 visitors to campus.
