ETSU BASKETBALL

May 9, 2016

Dear ETSU Basketball Season Ticket Holder,

What a pleasure it is to be your Coach. Just over a year ago, I had the privilege of saying hello to you at a press conference inside our beautiful Gordon Ball Court. The energy and passion I felt that day has been contagious and I am proud to report that more of you are receiving this letter to renew ETSU basketball season tickets than at any time in the past decade. Much has happened since that first press conference, and I want you to know how grateful my staff and I are for your tremendous support.

In a little over a year, East Tennessee State University, the Tri-Cities and the entire region have embraced our Bucs. Every time we step onto the court at Freedom Hall, we feel your energy and the home court advantage you have created. The challenge before us, is to fill every one of those brand new seats in Freedom Hall with Buccaneers. That challenge begins with your purchase of 2016-17 ETSU Season Basketball Tickets. You will find your renewal invoice enclosed and I encourage you to call our ticket office at 423.439.3878, should you have any questions about your season tickets. The deadline for the renewal of season tickets is June 30, 2016.

The season before us will be both challenging and historic as we host opponents in a newly renovated Freedom Hall. The schedule includes visits from our conference rivals and one particular game in December against my former employer, the University of Tennessee. I am told this game has not occurred in Johnson City since 1963, and we expect that night to be very special. Every home game is an experience, for our players, for our students and for you, our incredible fans. Those experiences build our team in preparation for playing meaningful games in March. Our goal, to cut down nets. Be there, be loud and together let's make this season one that we will always remember.

Thank you for your passion for ETSU Basketball.

Your Coach,

Steve Forbes
Head Basketball Coach
East Tennessee State University
