A METEOROLOGICAL MESS: The strange weather year across the West continues to cause shifting to GNAC schedules. Last weekend's scheduled four-game series between Northwest Nazarene and Simon Fraser was postponed due to snow on the field in Burnaby. That series was rescheduled for Mar. 21 and 22. Saint Martin's had its scheduled Tuesday non-conference doubleheader with Northwest (Wash.) rained out. This weekend's series between Northwest Nazarene and Central Washington has been moved from Ellensburg to Selah, Wash., 33 miles south near Yakima, due to unplayable field conditions.

THE TEAM TO WATCH: After its run through the GNAC Championships into the NCAA Division II Super Regional, Central Washington will be the team to beat in the GNAC in 2017.

The Wildcats were picked by conference coaches to repeat as GNAC champion in the annual coaches' preseason poll, which was released on Jan. 27. Central Washington received six of eight possible first place votes to finish with 61 points, well ahead Western Oregon, which was picked second with 50 points.

Central Washington went 3-2 at the MSUB Desert Stinger to open the 2017 season. The Wildcats opened with an 11-7 win over Cal Baptist on Friday before blistering Cal State Dominguez Hills on Saturday, 21-3 in five innings. Central hammered out 24 hits, three doubles and two home runs and finished with 20 RBIs in the contest.
