Bulldogs fall short in close games

Cumberland has lost eight of its last 10 contests this season, with six of those defeats by eight points or less. The six losses have come by a grand total of 28 points. The Bulldogs dropped a pair of games to Martin Methodist – 66-64 in Lebanon and 59-52 in Pulaski – as well as a two-point loss at Bethel University on a last-second shot. CU lost 53-47 at Dalton State College and 51-48 to Concordia College-Selma (also in Dalton) just before Christmas and dropped a 67-59 decision this past Monday at Freed-Hardeman.

Poor starts also leading to losses

Three times in the last five games Cumberland has fallen behind by double figures in the first half thanks to poor shooting and sometimes bad decisions. The Bulldogs trailed 16-0 and 18-2 at Dalton State College, missing its first nine shots and committing seven turnovers. CU trailed by three at the half thanks to a pair of runs and got as close as one midway through the second period before losing by six. Cumberland trailed 9-0 against Concordia-Selma, going 0-for-4 with three turnovers in the first four minutes of the contest, and 28 percent shooting put the club down 15 points late in the opening half. CCAL led by 15 again early in the second period before CU finished the game with a 21-4 spurt, falling by three. In Monday's loss at Freed-Hardeman, the Bulldogs made just 2-of-14 shots from the field and committed six turnovers in the first 11 minutes of the contest, allowing the Lions to take a 17-point advantage. CU's 13-3 spurt cut into the deficit but the club still trailed by 12 at the break. Cumberland pulled within six with just over two minutes to play, but that was as close as they would get in an eight-point defeat.

Williams enjoys two best games of season

Redshirt junior Paul Williams posted perhaps his best two games of the season this month for the Bulldogs, scoring in double figures for the first time this season in both outings. The North Chicago, Ill., native posted 10 points and six rebounds at Indiana-Southeast on January 3 and followed that with 11 points and six boards this past Monday at Freed-Hardeman. He combined to make 6-of-14 shots and was a perfect 9-for-9 at the foul line in the two outings, which were also the first two starts of the season for Williams, who missed all of 2013-14 with a knee injury. Williams added nine

Bulldogs continue road swing

Cumberland continues its current nine-game road swing with the second of three straight Mid-South Conference games this Saturday at fourth-ranked University of Pikeville. The Bulldogs have lost four straight in the series against the Bears, with three of the defeats by more than 14 points. Two years ago Pikeville gave head coach Lonnie Thompson the worst loss of his career, a 105-56 beatdown in Pikeville. Thompson is just 1-4 all-time against the Bears, with the win an 81-63 decision in his first season in 2003-04.

J. Wilkerson team's most consistent scorer

Senior Josh Wilkerson has been the team's most consistent performer so far in 2014-15 and is the only Bulldog player averaging in double figures. The Memphis, Tenn., native has scored in double figures in 13 of the club's 18 outings and netted nine points in two others. He is shooting 38 percent (24-for-64) from 3-point range this season with five contests with three trifectas, including versus Indiana-Southeast, Shawnee State, Martin Methodist, Dalton State College and Concordia-Selma. Wilkerson posted 19 points versus Freed-Hardeman, 20 in the first meeting with Martin Methodist, 18 against St. Catharine College and 17 at Indiana-Southeast. He also leads the club with 1.83 assists

Flagler finds scoring touch

Redshirt junior Alex Flagler has posted an up-and-down season to this point, scoring in double figures just three times and committing more turnovers than assists from the point guard position. The Atlanta, Ga., native netted 17 points with a pair of 3-pointers, four assists and five steals in the season-opener versus Indiana-Southeast and followed that with nine points and four steals at Fisk University but had not hit double-digits in any other contest this season and scored more than seven just once (nine versus Martin Methodist) before the the first two games of January. He hit a pair of trifectas and finished with 16 points and five steals at Indiana-Southeast before adding 11 points with four assists on Monday at Freed-Hardeman. For the season Flagler is averaging 6.4 points and 1.6 assists in 18.4 minutes per game.

Frazier's numbers fall off

Senior DeMario Frazier started quickly this season, netting double figures in five of the first seven games and 7-of-12 contests through December 13, but the Murfreesboro, Tenn., native has scored just 25 combined points in the last six outings, losing his starting spot in the process. He posted 12 points against Indiana-

Southeast and Fisk University to start the year and registered a season-high 22 points versus Life University as well as 18 points at Georgetown College. Frazier was averaging 12.9 points per game at that point of the year, but since then has netted only 5.1 points in the last 11 outings. Even his rebounding numbers have taken a tumble in recent outings, with eight contests of seven or more rebounds in the first 13 games of the year (including 12 versus IUS and 11 against Oakwood) but only 24 total boards in the last five contests. He is averaging 8.1 points and 6.5 rebounds per game this season, leading the club in rebounding and ranking second in scoring.

T. Wilkerson hopefully back on track

Junior guard Telvin Wilkerson was brought into the program to be a primary scorer but his inability to knock down shots has not allowed him to fill that role so far this season. The Memphis, Tenn., native scored in double figures just once in the first six games of the season, but he averaged 9.8 points with three double-digit outings between November 20 and December 13. He netted 10 points at Georgetown College, scored a season-best 19 points versus Martin Methodist and added 11 points at Bethel University. Wilkerson's inconsistency showed again in the next four outings, as he posted a combined 12 points while hitting only 5-of-23 shots from the floor. He is shooting just 34 percent from the field this season despite taking a large amount of good shots, driving to the basket but fading away on the 15-to-18 footers. Hopefully his showing this past Monday at Freed-Hardeman will get him back on track and more consistent. Wilkerson hit a pair of 3-pointers and was 4-for-8 overall in the game, registering a team-best 12 points. He is averaging 6.9 points and 3.2 rebounds per game in 26.4 minutes per contest this season.

Bulldogs plagued by turnovers

Cumberland ranks 58th out of 96 schools nationally in turnover margin through 18 games this season, with CU committing 16.2 miscues per contest. Opponents have scored 282 points in 17 outings (data not available for game at Oakwood), and average of 16.6 per contest. Life University netted 31 points on 25 Bulldog turnovers and five other teams posted more than 20 points off Cumberland miscues. CU's early-season M-O was a good first half and a few good minutes in the second half before the opponent took advantage of a string of turnovers and missed shots to take control of the game. Four of the club's five losses in November followed that pattern. Over the last four weeks Cumberland has gotten off to several terrible starts shooting and with turnovers, falling into big holes before fighting back and then falling short at the end. The Bulldogs have averaged just 13.6 turnovers over the last 11 contests with just one outing over 15 miscues (21 at Indiana-Southeast on Jan. 3), including only nine in Thursday's loss at the University of the Cumberland.

Gaston's versatility missing with injuries

Senior Jerrod Gaston played all three guard spots in the first seven games of the season, starting three contests and scoring 10.0 points per game. The Murphysboro, Ill., native netted double figures in the first three contests of the year, scoring 15 points against Indiana-Southeast, 16 at Fisk University and 13 at Oakwood University, and recorded 10 points against Freed-Hardeman. He added eight points at home versus Oakwood and grabbed six rebounds at Fisk and at Georgetown College. He missed three games in late November and early December with a knee injury and has not been the same player since returning, averaging just 4.9 points on 28 percent shooting (9-for-32) from the field. His only outing with more than five points since Dec. 6 was eight points at Martin Methodist before Thursday's loss at the University of the Cumberland when he posted a team-best 12 points. Gaston is averaging 7.4 points and 2.9 rebounds per game this season in 14 contests, playing 19.2 minutes per game.

Men's basketball selected eighth in MSC Coaches' Poll

Cumberland was picked eighth in the Mid-South Conference Men's Basketball Preseason Coaches' Poll announced in early November by the league office. The Bulldogs and 13th-year head coach Lonnie Thompson return seven letterwinners along with two redshirts from last season's squad that finished 14-13 overall. Sophomore Marquel Hickerson started 20 contests and senior Josh Wilkerson had 15 starts while senior Moritz Dern and sophomore De-Quan Bond each collected 12 starts last year. The University of Pikeville was the preseason favorite according to the coaches, receiving three first-place votes and 58 total points. Georgetown College got two first-place votes and 54 total points, while Campbellsville University also received three first-place votes and 52 points for third place. The University of the Cumberlands was selected fourth and Lindsey Wilson was fifth, picking up the remaining first-place vote. Newcomer Life University was sixth, followed by St. Catharine College, Cumberland and Shawnee State.

Head Coach Lonnie Thompson

Cumberland's Lonnie Thompson begins his 13th season with the Bulldogs and his 17th as a head coach. The Bulldogs posted a 14-13 mark last season with a roster that included 10 newcomers.

Thompson's program has enjoyed unprecedented success, with three national tournament appearances – the only appearances in school history. Five years ago the Bulldogs made their second consecutive trip to Kansas City, becoming the first squad from CU with back-to-back national tournament appearances.

The Woodbury, Ga., native has posted a 204-166 mark at Cumberland with one TranSouth Conference regular season championship and is 280-209 overall as a head coach. Thompson posted his 200th career head coaching victory on February 19, 2009, against Lambuth University in just his 11th year as a head coach.

Thompson came to CU from Motlow State Community College in Tullahoma, Tenn., where he led the Bucks to back-to-back TJC-CAA Eastern Division Championships. He was named TJCCAA Eastern Division Coach of the Year three times at Motlow State and was the unanimous selection for 2004 TranSouth Coach of the Year in just his second season in the conference.

That season, he led the Bulldogs to the most wins in school history with a 28-6 record. The 2004 season also saw Thompson capture his 100th career victory as a head coach en route to leading the Bulldogs to the first TranSouth Conference Championship in school history. The program also made the school's first-ever appearance at the NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., where they were defeated in the Round of 16.

Cumberland posted a 21-12 overall mark in 2007-08 and made its second appearance in the NAIA National Tournament, falling to Oklahoma City in the first round.

Thompson has a depth of coaching experience at all levels of college basketball, serving as an assistant coach at South Alabama, Middle Tennessee, Tennessee State, Creighton and Odessa Junior College, where he coached former NBA All-Star Larry Johnson.

Lonnie and his wife, Felicia, have two sons, Destin and Darius, and one daughter, Devin, and the family resides in Murfreesboro, Tenn. Thompson received his bachelor's from Middle Tennessee in 1986 and returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach under David Farrar in the mid-90's.
